Tim Walford G3PCJ is pleased to announce that, following the much increased attendance and very successful QRPiC 2011 this year, next year's event will be held on Sunday July 15th 2012. As before, it will be held at Upton Bridge Farm, Long Sutton, Somerset

Tim is particularly keen to increase the attendance by West Country Clubs and individuals with interesting things to show off. If you wish to reserve an early place or can suggest a novel feature, just drop him a line at walfor@globalnet.co.uk

Have you heard of the FUNcube dongle ? It's an amazing little receiver the same size and shape as a USB memory stick and with suitable FREE software allows you to tune between 64—1,700Mhz . I was able to hear the GB3USK beacon on 1296Mhz with NO aerial attached ! All modes can be covered .

They are just over £100

It pays to advertise—recently an enquiry on the RSGB Bristol Yahoo group for a projector brought an offer of a free one from Dan M0TGN—thanks Dan !

Have YOU joined the RSGB Bristol Yahoo Group ? —it is available to all Bristol group members and is a very useful source of “locals” for chatting / buying / selling or just announcing what you are doing .
